eParenting® High-Tech Kids
coming to Montana 4-H and beyond!

You know the appeal that technology holds for 4H members – cell phones, tablets, gaming, social media, and on and on! And no doubt, you're aware of the negative impacts that technology can have on youth. But what about the positive ways it can be used to support your child's well-being?

We are excited to announce a new partnership with Montana State University Extension to bring you eParenting® High-Tech Kids. Rather than focus on the negatives, eParenting® provides ideas on using digital media to stay close to your child and strengthen family relationships.

Starting next week and through mid-June, if you join you will receive weekly email blasts with "Be an eParent" in the subject line. With just a click or two, you will be linked to a blog site from University of Wisconsin-Extension where you can read short practical positive tips on using digital media with your child. (MSU Extension is partnering with University of Wisconsin-Extension where the program was developed.)

To determine the benefits of eParenting, there will be a chance at the end to share your thoughts. Please reply to the short evaluation in June so we know how eParenting is working!
